

Nursing News

We're wrapping up the 2022-23 academic year with the second issue of Nursing News.

The Nursing Dept. is capturing growing interest from the public and in turn, shining a spotlight on Concord University as a whole.

A recent website analytics report showed that our Nursing page was the 17th most visited on Concord's website last month!

In our last newsletter, we made mention of a virtual reality room in the works. We are pleased to announce that the Immersion Lab has been completed!

We look forward to ushering in a new era of nursing education!

in action!

Our Immersion Lab is a powerful, state of the art interactive learning space that allows the students to experience simulated situations they are likely to encounter in the healthcare field. These simulations include realistic settings, sounds, and even smells!

Program

We get it.

Nurses have a lot to juggle. Our RN to BSN program makes it easier to achieve your goals. Scan the QR code below for a Plan of Study

Did you know...

That our RN to BSN program is 100% online? This program is perfect for those who are already Registered Nurses but would like to further their education, as well as their careers.

This program consists of 30 hours of nursing curriculum, plus 6 elective courses of your choosing*. This can be completed in just three semesters without stepping foot on campus!

36 hours of residency credit required to earn a Concord University degree*

Break

With many students taking a much needed break after finals, things slow down quite a bit at “The Campus Beautiful” over the summer.

Professor Farley will be relocating her home base, and looking for places to offer her services and keep her skills sharp.

Dr. Snider will be working at the farmer’s market in White Sulphur Springs.

Professor Nichols has plans to go on a cruise with her husband to celebrate their anniversary, and to soak up some vitamin D with her son and daughter.

Dr. Holt will be travelling to surrounding healthcare facilities to promote the online RN to BSN program.

We hope that you enjoy your summer break and return refreshed in the Fall!
